

REVELATION REVISITED

Welcome

Thank you, in advance, for taking time out of your very busy schedule to attend this Revelation Revisited Bible Study.

This particular Bible study will be unlike any other that you have undertaken. The view of Revelation that is presented is decidedly “eschatological”. Many of the things that we have previously considered fulfilled in various historic events are reexamined to see if they may have some “end-time” importance for us, as well.

Therefore, this is not a study for the timid. If you do not like to question what you believe, this study is unlikely to make you feel good.

However, if you believe that God is a God of truth, and that truth is progressive – if you believe that we can trust the Holy Spirit to lead us into all truth – then you have some special blessings in store for you.

The greatest challenge you may face may not be the reevaluation of your position. Instead, your greatest challenge may be deciding what to do about the information you learn in this study.

I trust that God will lead you in that regard.

Again, thank you for your time. It is our hope that the truths discovered here will challenge you to study deeper in the coming years.

Sincerely,

David E. Clover,
